RESTAURANTS

SHANGHAI

Chinese

Shanghainese

Lynn

99-1 Xikang Lu, Nanjing Lu

Contemporary décor restaurant offering light, modern Cantonese and Shanghainese dishes in a great location between The Portman Ritz Carlton and Plaza 66 in the JingAn district.

The Chinoise Story

JinJiang Hotel, 59 Mao Ming Nan Lu

Set in the heart of French Concession, this restaurant features interesting décor stemming from Chinese origins which branch out to embrace a wide variety of styles including Mediterranean and French flavours. Their desserts mingle patisserie with delicate Oriental tea.

Ding Tai Feng

Xintiandi, South Block, No. 6, F2, 11A (under Alexander Health Club)

Popular Dim Sum from Taiwan with a well deserved reputation. The juicy crab roe dumpling is heaven. Cheerful and friendly staff and reservations are strongly recommended.

Sichuan

South Beauty

881 Middle Yan An Road, by Shanxi Bei Lu, Jing An District, Shanghai

Restaurant offering innovative Sichuan spicy cuisine that appeals to Western tastes; gorgeous garden and several different ambiances. The rainbow rib is unforgettable. Service tends to be above average.

Sichuan Citizen

30 Donghu Road

Sichuan Citizen, as the name states, serves delicious, authentic Sichuan spicy and perfumed cuisine. There is a laid back and pleasant ambience at the restaurant, cocktail bar and tea house. Everything is tasty: simple "twice-cooked" stir fry and diced dishes, steamed ones, great vegetarian fare, and noodles and soups for very affordable prices. Ask for a table on the ground floor, preferably in the bar area. Although it smoking is allowed, it is nicer than the upstairs.

Cantonese

Yi Long Court

At the Peninsula Hotel, No. 32 Zhongshan Dong Yi Road

Perhaps one of the most sophisticated Chinese restaurants in the city, located at The Peninsula hotel, with view over Huangpu River, it features an impressive Art Deco atmosphere and lavish menu.

Tan Wai Lou

5th Floor, Bund 18, Zhong Shang Dong Yi Lu, Huang Pu District

With its red and black minimalist Chinese interior, this venue serves traditional classical flavours; offering great views of Pudong, facing the Oriental Pearl Tower, with an above average professional service.

Yunnan

Lost Heaven

38 Gaoyou Lu, by Fuxing Xi

Beautiful South East décor for this fusion of Burmese, Miao and Dai tribe dishes which compose Yunnan cuisine. With a great bar-lounge on the ground floor, reservations are highly recommended, especially during weekends. Although they have opened a 2nd restaurant on the Bund area, we still recommend the original in the French Concession, better food and better service

Hunnan

Gu Yi

87 Fuming lu, by Julu lu

Fiery spicy Hunnanese feast. Locals and expats queue up to enjoy the honest and affordable treats. Delightfully busy and noisy.

Hot Pot

Qimin Organic Hotpot

407 Shaanxi N Lu

Expect to pay more than the average for their delicious hot pots.

Pan European

Downstairs with David Laris

186 Jiaozhou Rd.

Inside the very charming URBN Hotel, the first carbon free hotel in China, David Laris is opening his highly anticipated new restaurant. The menu is inspired by the freshest ingredients available. This venue will be the urban chic eatery for all seasons, and as the weather warms up, the perfect place for highly coveted alfresco dining and drinking.

T8

House 8, North Block Xintiandi, Lane 181 Taicang Lu

Located in Xintiandi, a contemporary décor with an open kitchen sets this restaurant's charm. Innovative fusion cuisine; a bit noisy sometimes and it illustrates the trendy side of Shanghai yet remains a reliable table with above average service.

M1NT

318 Fuzhou Lu near Shandong

Although located on the grounds of a trendy club the cuisine of M1NT has surprised and delighted. Fusion with accents of Southeast Asia, this restaurant offers tasty, generous portions and great value for money. The open kitchen makes it a bit noisy but the view is spectacular.

French

Mr & Mrs Bund

6/F, Bund 18, 18 Zhongshan Dong Yi Lu, near Nanjing Dong Lu.

A "Modern French Eatery" by Shanghai's famous chef Paul Pairet. Mr. & Mrs. Bund endeavours to be Shanghai's first late night dining restaurant. It's on the Bund so expect it to be upscale yet relaxed, without sacrificing an ounce of chic. Serving global French favourites through Pairet's looking glass, the service is family-style, recast for a modern table, and the wine list includes 32 wines by the glass. Highly recommended to make a reservation at least 3 days in advance. This restaurant also offers a late night menu for the night owls.

Franck Bistro

Ferguson Lane, 376 Wukang Lu

Authentic French restaurant; located in a lovely lane in the French Concession embassies area; chic yet relaxed bistro with a newly added bar and lounge area. The young Chinese urbanites love the cosmopolitan atmosphere.

Jean Georges

4/F, 3 Zhongshan Dong Yi Lu, The Bund near Guangdong

Lavish French restaurant by the same chef of the New York establishment featuring a romantic atmosphere with a view of the Bund, delicate and carefully designed cuisine. Due to the large scale of the venue, a sense of emptiness is present if the restaurant is only half occupied.

Italian

Issimo - Jia

931 Nanjing Xi Lu

Perhaps the best pizza in Shanghai; this restaurant also offers great grilled options from the open kitchen. Trendy atmosphere in one of the top boutique hotels in town. Busy at lunch time.

Ciao

1F, 740 Hankou Lu

A chic and stylish venue with glass windows facing the street, light Italian cuisine from renowned chef Michele Totaro on the grounds of the exquisite Langham Hotel. Adjacent deli where you can have a quick bite or take away.

Bella Napoli

140 XiKang Lu near Beijing Lu

Stepping into this restaurant is like entering a real neighbourhood bistro in Italy. It serves authentic southern Italian cuisine at reasonable prices. The atmosphere is cosy and inviting. There are two locations in Shanghai but we recommend the original, smaller one. Better service, better food.

Mr. Willis

3/F, 195 Anfu Lu, near Wulumuqi Lu

Mr. Willis has an intimate, relaxed ambience where you can feel the comforts of home on the tree-lined AnFu Road. The food is simple, containing high quality fresh ingredients.

Spanish

El Willy

20 Donghu Lu

The best Spanish restaurant in town with a charming and ever present chef - always a good sign - preparing great tapas and innovative cuisine. Hidden in a hutong with vast outside patio, enoteca for wine tasting; all in a pleasant relaxed atmosphere.

Japanese

Nadaman at Shangri-la

803 Julu Lu, by Fumin Lu

Innovative Japanese cuisine with small portions. Contemporary décor - reconstructed from an old warehouse-cement wall, wooden table and open kitchen.

Oyama Sushi Bar

2/f, 20 Donghu Lu, near Huaihai Lu, upstairs of El Willy

Opened in March 2009 this tiny fourteen-seat sushi bar offers a multi-course custom menu which changes nightly for reservation-only guests. All their seafood is imported directly from Tokyo and Nagasaki.

Thai

Coconut Paradise

38 Fumin Lu, by Yan'an Zhong Lu

Housed in an elegant French villa with candlelight ambience, Coconut Paradise serves authentic Thai cuisine.

Vegetarian

Ji Xiang Cao

2/F, 428 Madang Lu

Serving delicate light food, in small quantities, Ji Xiang Cao offers a comfortable large space, quiet dining environment, soft music and warm staff.
