Mr & Mrs Bund

French in The Bund & People's Square

French chef Paul Pairet's casual eatery aims for a space that's considerably more playful than your average fine-dining Bund restaurant. The mix-and-match menu has a heavy French bistro influence, reimagined and served up with Pairet's ingenious presentation. But it's not just the food you're here for: it's the post-midnight menu deal (two-/three-course meals ¥250/300), the bingo nights and the wonderfully wonky atmosphere. Ring the doorbell for entry.

Brunch (from 11am to 2.30pm on weekends) is another reason to visit, with jugs of Pimm's for ¥150.
